

NOISE ORDINANCE

Sec. 1. Purpose.

It is recognized that excessive and unnecessary noise endangers the physical and emotional health and welfare of the people, interferes with legitimate business and recreational activity, increases construction costs, depresses property values, offends the senses, creates public nuisances, and in other respects reduces the quality of life.

It is further recognized that a substantial body of science and technology exists by which excessive sound may be measured and substantially abated. Because the regulation of excessive and unnecessary noise that may jeopardize human health or welfare or substantially degrade the quality of life is well within the power of the governing body's police powers, it is declared to be the purpose of this section to prevent, prohibit, and provide for the regulation and abatement of excessive and unnecessary noise which may injure the physical and emotional health or welfare of its citizens or degrade the quality of life.

Sec. 2. Certain noises and sounds prohibited.

It shall be unlawful, except as expressly permitted herein, to make, cause, or allow the making of any noise or sound which exceeds the limits set forth in section 3 through section 8.

Sec. 3. Terminology and standards.

(a) Conformance. All terminology used in the provisions of sections 1 through 10 not defined below, shall be in conformance with applicable publications of the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) or its successor body.

(b) Definitions: [The following definitions shall apply to this article:]

Ambient sound. The total noise in a given environment.

A-weighted sound level. The sound pressure level in decibels as measured on a sound level meter using the A-weighting network. The level so read is designated dB(A).

A-weighted sound level meter. An instrument which includes an omnidirectional microphone, an amplifier, an output meter, and frequency weighting network(s) for the measurement of sound.

Background noise. Ambient sound.

Classification of use occupancies. For the purpose of defining the "use occupancy" all premises containing habitually occupied sleeping quarters shall be considered in residential use. All premises containing transient commercial sleeping quarters shall be considered commercial use. All premises containing businesses where sales, professional, or other commercial use is legally permitted shall be considered commercial use. All premises where industry is legally permitted shall be considered industrial use. In case of multiple use, the more restrictive use category shall prevail. Hospitals, nursing homes, schools, libraries, and church uses shall be considered residential uses. Any area not otherwise classified shall conform to commercial standards. All premises where agricultural activity is legally permitted shall be considered agricultural use.

Decibel (dB). A unit for describing the amplitude of sound, equal to twenty (20) times the logarithm to the base 10 of the ratio of the pressure of the sound measured to the reference pressure, which is twenty (20) micronewtons per square meter.

Emergency work. Any work performed for the purposes of preventing or alleviating physical trauma or property damage threatened or caused by an existing or imminent peril.

Noise sensitive zones. Any zone so designated by the board of commissioners which displays conspicuous signs indicating the presence of such zone.

Octave band sound level. The sound pressure level in decibels of the sound within a specific frequency band surrounding a specific center octave frequency (example: frequency band: 355-710 Hz; center octave frequency: 500 Hz), as measured on an octave band sound level meter set for measurement of sound level within that octave band. The level so read is designated dB, followed in parentheses by the center frequency of the octave band (example: 65 dB(500 Hz)).

Octave band sound level meter. An instrument which includes an omnidirectional microphone, an amplifier, an output meter, and octave band filter for octave band sound level measurement.

Person. Any individual, association, partnership, or corporation and includes any officer, employee, department, agency or instrumentality of the United States, the state, or any political subdivision thereof.

Sound pressure level. Twenty (20) times the logarithm to the base 10 of the ratio of the RMS sound pressure to the reference of twenty (20) micronewtons per square meter.

Weekend. A weekend shall be defined as that period of time between 12:00 midnight on Friday to 12:00 midnight on Sunday.

(c) Measurement of sound.

- (1) Personnel. The operator of a sound level meter, but not persons assisting that operator with nontechnical aspects of sound level measurement, must have received special training in sound measurement from an expert or experts in sound measurement and must have received training in the use of the sound level meter used. The sheriff of the county shall prescribe minimum training standards for such operators.
- (2) Measurement procedures. Sound level measurement, to include A-weighted and octave band measurement, and recording of measurement readings shall be accomplished in accordance with procedures approved by the sheriff of the county. These measurement procedures shall conform to the operating instructions included in the operator's manual for the sound level meter used.

(d) Background sound. When the lowest sound level reading of the highest ten (10) per cent of readings taken during a measurement period was ten (10) or more decibels higher than the background sound level at the place of measurement shortly before or after the measurement period, as prescribed in section 4 herein, it shall be presumed, for the purposes of the enforcement of sections 1 through 10, that the recorded sound levels in excess of the applicable sound level limit were caused by the source of sound, the activation of which caused the sound level to exceed the background sound level. The period of measurement of background sound level shall be at least one (1) minute and readings shall be taken at five-second intervals. The proof of background sound level shall not be required for enforcement of sections 1 through 10.

Sec. 4. Maximum permissible sound levels by use occupancy.

No person shall operate or cause to be operated any source of sound from any occupancy in such a manner as to create a sound level which exceeds the limits set forth for the use occupancy category in Table 1 or Table 2 herein, more than five (5) minutes, or ten (10) per cent of the sound level measurements taken at five-second intervals during a measurement period of at least ten (10) minutes, to be measured at or beyond the property boundary of the land use from which the sound emanates.
